

2 mark questions(2x25=50)

1. What is Python?
2. What are the key features of Python?
3. What are Python's data types? Give examples.
4. What is the difference between tuple and list in Python?
5. Explain Python's indentation.
6. What is a Python function?
7. What is the difference between == and is operators in Python?
8. Explain the concept of a Python module.
9. How are exceptions handled in Python?
10. What is a dictionary in Python?
11. What are Python's built-in data structures?
12. Explain the difference between append() and extend() methods in Python lists
13. What is list slicing in Python?
14. Write a Python function to check if a number is even or odd.
15. Write a Python function that reads a file and handles the exception if the file does not exist.
16. What is the purpose of the finally block in Python exception handling?
17. What is the else block used for in Python exception handling?
18. What are the built-in exceptions in Python? Name a few.
19. What are the different modes in which you can open a file in Python?
20. How do you read a file line by line in Python?
21. What are operators in Python?
22. Explain the difference between / and // operators.
23. How do logical operators work in Python? Provide examples.
24. What does the += operator do in Python?
25. What is the difference between if and elif?